Welcome to the October 2011 edition of the Radio HF Internet Newsletter. We heading into fall here in the Montreal region. The days are getting shorter; the leaves on the trees are turning and beginning to fall and the nights are getting much cooler. Personally, though this is my favourite time of the year.

There are a few special things to mention to you this month. First off, in Publicity Zone #3 you'll find information on two new book releases from the American Radio Relay League (ARRL). The 2011 Handbook and the new 22nd edition of the ARRL Antenna Book have just been released. They are available in hard-cover or soft-cover editions at limited special prices. These are both excellent and highly anticipated publications. You can order your copy from Radio HF now. They make great Christmas gifts for that hard-to-please radio enthusiast in the family! Believe it or not we're just a couple of months away from the holiday season. Radio HF gift certificates are always available as well.

I also want to tell you all about a new radio event taking place in Montreal at the end of November. It is called Radio Talk 2011 and is organized and presented by the West Island Amateur Radio Club. I'm looking forward to the event which will have many different exhibits and displays, presentations and much more for anyone with an interest in radio. I have been invited to speak at the event. I will be giving a presentation entitled "Radio in the 21st Century". It should be a very interesting event. If you are in the Montreal region on November 26th, I do hope you can drop by. The website link is listed in both the Radio Zone and the Hamfest/Fleamarket Zone.

Our Monthly Special Zone for October also features information on World Food Day, the U.N.'s World Rural Women's Day and, of course, Halloween.

This month's virtual voyage around the world, in the "Where in the World Zone", takes us to the southern sector of the African continent. Botswana, officially the Republic of Botswana, is a country located in Southern Africa. The citizens are referred to as "Batswana". Formerly the British protectorate of Bechuanaland, Botswana adopted its new name after becoming independent within the Commonwealth on 30 September 1966. It has held free and fair democratic elections since independence.

Botswana is flat, and up to 70% is covered by the Kalahari Desert. It is bordered by South Africa to the south and southeast, Namibia to the west and north, and Zimbabwe to the northeast. Its border with Zambia to the north is poorly defined but at most is a few hundred meters long. A mid-sized, landlocked country of just over two million people, Botswana is one of the most sparsely populated countries in the world.

So let's get to this month's Newsletter. Please feel free to send along a few websites to add to future editions. I could certainly use some input as we have just two contributors this month.

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

A new event for fans of radio will be presented by the West Island Amateur Radio Club in Montreal on Saturday, November 26, 2011. The event is still in the planning stages but this webpage has been set up to keep people up to date on what will be taking place. There will be exhibits, presentations, and lots more. Radio Talk 2011 is NOT A HAMFEST! Radio Talk 2011 is a new innovative event. Is ham or amateur radio a hobby or a service? It is many things to the many individuals whom make up the Amateur Radio Community. Radio of all types is being reinvented in these modern times from a tool for communications as well as a means of entertainment and information. Radio Talk 2011 will hopefully address these issues and challenges facing us in the community with a serious of lively and informative discussions as well as demonstrations and presentations. Come join us on this exciting journey on Saturday November 26th, 2011.

Revolutions in Radio is a senior comps project by Tom Schmidt. Tom Schmidt is a senior at Carleton College in Northfield, Minnesota. He is a Cinema & Media Studies major, and is the station manager of the college's student-run radio station, KRLX. Revolutions In Radio examines the possibilities of radio's future by transforming four current formats on KRLX, Carleton College's 100-watt student-run radio station, into program's that utilize current technological advancements while maintaining radio's long standing tradition of serving the public and creating a world where the community can gather.

Be prepared for a radio world that involves video, instant messaging, YouTube, and more listener input than past radio. Experience the next revolution in radio.

A DAY ON RADIO

http://xroads.virginia.edu/~1930s2/Radio/day/radio.html

VIA Sheldon Harvey, Greenfield Park, Quebec

A full day of radio programming from WJSV (to become WTOP) Washington, D.C., for September 21, 1939. This project presents a representative sample of the mix of network and local programming of a major metropolitan network affiliate of the period. It also suggests a good deal about the programming mix of such stations: early morning breakfast variety programs followed by soap operas during the day, news and sports in the late afernoon, family serials in the early evening followed by drama and orchestral music until sign off. Finally, because it includes the advertising for each program, it tells us a good deal about the power and shape of radio advertising at the time.

SOAS RADIO

ON4UN's Low-Band Dxing - 5th Edition

By John Devoldere, ON4UN

ISBN: 978-0-87259-856-0 $44.95 CDN or U.S.

ARRL Order # 8560

I am proud to say I have followed ON4UN's Low band editorial activity through all editions of this excellent book. For most hams, hanging on 40 and 80 meters is a matter of local chit chat with "cloud warming" antennas. 160 is a pleasant dream. To be a serious player on the low bands (and to fill in the log book with DX) requires serious thought and proper practice. Thankfully, hams have had the benefit of John ON4UN's tutelage to get the job done. Previous editions have taught us much. This new edition extends out knowledge base.

One of the keys to getting the job done on the Low Bands is often accomplished by deploying a separate receiving antenna. This is done to resolve problems with noise and broadcast band interference as well as enhanced signal capture. The section on receiving antennas has been revised and expanded.

Phased Array antennas are a popular way to achieve directionality and gain on the low bands, these antenna systems are given a fresh look including study of newer designs such as the hybrid-fed 4-Square Array.

Dozens of other antenna designs and feed line types are given in depth scrutiny giving any ham many possible ideas to make best use of the space they have available for low band antenna systems.

The sections devoted to propagation analysis have been widely revised with the addition of new maps. The latest technologies are also covered including the best use of Software Defined Radio systems for Low band operation.

The book includes a CD-ROM with a fully searchable .pdf version of the book along with "value added" features such as antenna modeling software. If you plan to talk further than the next town on any band below 40 meters, you will want to add this book to your collection.

This publication is available from your favourite radio book dealer.

Welcome to OCCUPY TOGETHER, an unofficial hub for all of the events springing up across the country in solidarity with Occupy Wall St. As we have followed the news on facebook, twitter, and the various live feeds across the internet, we felt compelled to build a site that would help spread the word as more protests organize across the world. We hope to provide people with information about events that are organizing, ongoing, and building across the U.S. as we, the 99%, take action against the greed and corruption of the 1%. We will only grow stronger in our solidarity and we will be heard, not just in New York, but in echoes across the world.

Although it happened ten years ago, I never heard about this until recently. Around 500,000 people were evacuated from Manhattan Island by a fleet of volunteers and their boats in an 8 hour period after the 9/11 attacks. This is the largest evacuation by sea in history, even dwarfing the WWII Dunkirk evacuation in which 339,000 British troops were evacuated in a 9 day period. The video is approximately 12 minutes long and narrated by Tom Hanks. Definitely worth the watch
